

SKYWARN TRAINING

Where: Monroe County Public Safety Center
100 Gypsum Road, Stroudsburg, PA 18360

When: Thursday, October 16, 2014 at 7:00pm

What is Skywarn?

SKYWARN™ is made up of a group of trained, dedicated amateur weather enthusiasts who work in conjunction with the National Weather Service by observing and reporting adverse weather conditions to promote public safety and minimize property damage.

You are invited to participate in this fun and informative training session being taught by a senior meteorologist from the Mount Holly NWS office. The class runs about 2 hours and is open to all members of the public. The class includes some general weather history for our area and how to spot and report severe weather. You must be 16 years or older to be an official Skywarn spotter.

If interested please contact the Monroe County Office of Emergency Management at 570-992-4113.
